Residents' drugs house 'hell' ends

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

RESIDENTS have told a court of their nightmare months spent living near a house where Class A drugs were being used and supplied.

After an all-day hearing, magistrates at Sudbury agreed to end their ordeal by making a permanent closure order on 38 Willow Close, Haverhill, for the next three months so that tenant Jamie Brooks, 32, must move out straight away.

Haverhill police welcomed the decision and hoped it would send a strong message to drug dealers that their activities would not be tolerated.

Resident Phillip Hill told the court he and his wife, Carol, felt they had been forced to move out of their home of seven years because of disturbance from noise and "comings and goings at all hours" at Brooks' home.

Mr Hill said: "It was the openness of the drug dealing which surprised and amazed us. We had people standing outside our window at 2am arguing about whose turn it was to pay. You did not want to get involved because they were so threatening and abusive. It just spoiled our lives."

Young drivers to be targeted

YOUNGER drivers are to be targeted by police after a recent enforcement campaign showed them to be the worst culprits for committing drink-driving offences.

Haverhill's sector commander Inspector Andrew Mason said he was disappointed that a recent joint operation with Cambridgeshire Police, concentrating largely on the A1307, on June 6, 7, 12 and 19, resulted in 61 drivers being given a breath test and four of these proved positive.

These four drivers were aged 18, 23, 28 and 30, all below the most common age of 40s or 50s for those caught drink-driving.

Inspector Mason said: "It does not fit the usual profile because they are young people who have grown up with the drink-driving laws, rather than people in their 40s and 50s who have had to adjust to them."

"We will be specifically targeting this age group as a result. It is disappointing that the message has not got through and although they are aware of the law, they are disregarding it."

"Four people out of that many tests is really quite high. People we stop always say they have had two pints, but when they are tested have obviously had considerably more."

Road ban for lorry driver

A LORRY driver who admitted a drink-driving offence has been banned from driving for almost two years and fined £200. Nicholas Binks, of Semer Close, Stowmarket, was stopped driving a lorry on the A143 at Wickham Brook on Monday, June 8. The 47-year-old appeared before magistrates at Bury St Edmunds where he was banned for 22 months, with the option of taking a driving course to reduce the term of his ban, as well as being ordered to pay £25 costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Man in crash cut out of car

A MOTORIST was cut out of her car after a two-vehicle smash near Haverhill last Friday night. Emergency services were called to Cock Hill in Kedington at 4.30pm, where they found a pile-up involving a silver Ford and a blue Mazda. One woman was trapped and firefighters cut the roof off her car to gain access to her. Her injuries were not thought to be life-threatening.

Drink-drive court date

A TEENAGER has been charged with drink driving after police stopped a car on Eastern Avenue in Haverhill early on the morning of Sunday, June 7. Stephanie Butchart, 18, of South Road, Abington, is due before Bury Magistrates on Tuesday, July 21.

Meet your local officers

A CHANCE to raise issues with local officers is available when the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team holds a street meet on Saturday at the East Town Park from 2-4pm.

Promoting a safe night out

POLICE and a local council have launched a new partnership to work more closely together to promote a safer night time economy in their district.

The innovative partnership between St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Suffolk Constabulary will see a uniformed police officer working alongside local authority licensing officers.

PC Gary Pinyoun, who has previous experience in this work, moved in with St Edmundsbury's licensing team last week to make regular day and night time visits to local licensed premises in Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds, and the rural areas of the district.

The post is being funded by the police and progress will be reviewed after six months. Last Friday, PC Pinyoun met Rod Curtis, licensing officer for the council, outside the Drabber Smock pub in Haverhill to launch the new scheme.

The scheme will help businesses to contribute to the prevention and reduction of crime by reducing the sales of alcohol to the underage and drunk patrons and encouraging greater responsibility in customers.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, St Edmundsbury Cabinet member for community, said: "The night time economy is important for the borough and this scheme will help to reassure people with any doubts that it is safe to come and enjoy our thriving social life.

"It will equally benefit residents by controlling anti-social behaviour through well-enforced licensing conditions and promoting our licensing objectives."

St Edmundsbury District Commander, Chief Inspector Martin Barnes-Smith, said: "By establishing this regular contact with pubs, clubs and off-licenses and those looking to open licensed premises, we can reinforce the message that anti-social behaviour within and around these premises is not acceptable and will not be tolerated."

New Tesco store set for earlier autumn opening

HAVERHILL'S new Tesco store is to open ahead of schedule.

Nick Gellatly, director of corporate affairs for Tesco, thanked residents for their patience with traffic hold-ups during construction work at the former Station Yard site.

He said work was ahead of schedule and it was hoped to open the new store by late October instead of November, with all traffic work to be completed by early September.

Mr Gellatly said the company had already received hundreds of enquiries about the 220 jobs to be created.

He said: "We are very much looking forward to opening in Haverhill and we are very grateful to residents for the patience they have shown us.

"People will be able to park free in our car park for up to three hours, we don't even mind if they are not visiting our store. The average shop takes around 45 minutes, which gives people time to spend more than two hours to spend shopping in the town. We want to work with the community and bring more prosperity to all of the town."

'OAP told girls assaults are part of growing up'

A PENSIONER told four young girls that his indecent assaults on them were "part of growing up", it has been alleged.

Carl Williams, 68, also warned the girls not to tell anyone else about his behaviour towards them, Ipswich Crown Court was told.

Prosecutor Joanne Eley said it was alleged that the offences had been committed in the Haverhill area and in Felixstowe between 2002 and 2007.

Williams, of Castle Walk, Haverhill, has pleaded not guilty to a total of 17 offences including 14 of sexual assault, two of sexual touching and one of attempted rape, involving four separate girls.

The jury this week heard from two of the alleged victims – now in their teens – who have been giving evidence via a video link to the courtroom.

One of the girls, who cannot be identified for legal reasons, told of the alleged indecent assaults on her and how Williams had told her on a number of occasions that she must never tell anyone else about what he had done.

Miss Eley said: "He told one of the girls that it was a part of growing up".

Miss Eley said that on one occasion, one of the girls was pushed onto a bed by Williams, who attempted to have sex with her, but he had stopped when he was disturbed by a noise and thought he might be caught.

On other occasions, Williams had rubbed himself against the girls and touched their genitals, alleged Miss Eley.

The court was told that Williams was arrested after one of the girls began having sex education lessons at her school and had told a school nurse about what she said Williams had done to her.

Before being charged, Williams was questioned by police and told officers that the girl's allegations were untrue and that they had made up lies about him.

The trial, which is due to continue into next week, continues.

Smart children are rewarded

YOUNGSTERS at two primary schools have started out on their higher education early by receiving certificates from the Suffolk Children's University.

Jackie Fairweather, Suffolk project manager for the scheme, visited Place Farm and Coupals Primary Schools in Haverhill to hand out certificates to successful students. At Place Farm, there were six bronze award winners, three silver and Oliver Carr received the only gold. At Coupals, there were 18 silver awards and the six to receive gold were Mitchell Morgan, Georgia Smith, Kelsei Stevenson, Stanley Short, Frankie Smith and Lauren Irons.

The scheme, which has been in operation in Suffolk for two years, rewards pupils for extra curricular activities they take part in either before or after school or weekends.

The youngsters are encouraged to take up activities they would not normally do and have to spend 15 hours to achieve a bronze medal, 25 for a silver and 35 for a gold.

They receive a passport and get stamps in it each time they take part in an activity. Pupils at Place Farm gained their awards for work for their gardening club, as well as attending a ballroom dancing club.

Coupals School has gained substantial funding for its gardening club and pupils have been proud to grow vegetables such as broad beans, which had been served in the school kitchen.

Ms Fairweather said: "More schools are joining us each day and we already have quite lot in Haverhill that are taking part."

Suspect released on bail

A MAN arrested on suspicion of rape after a distressed woman was found in the grounds of a library has been released on bail until September 8.

The 42-year-old from Haverhill was arrested on Tuesday morning after a woman was found close to the library in Camps Road, Haverhill, at 9.20am, when a member of the public contacted police.

An area around the library was cordoned off as officers searched for evidence.

Police are appealing for witnesses who saw or heard anything suspicious in the area between 5pm to midnight on Monday.

A Suffolk police spokesman said the woman had received medical treatment and had been offered all the support she needed from specialist officers.

Anyone with any information about the incident should contact Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Free fun day for all family

HAVERHILL churches have joined forces to host a free fun day on Saturday.

Volunteers from Haverhill Churches Together will host the event on the recreation ground from 11am-4pm.

Activities will include a five-a-side football competition, a live band, barbecue, children's activity marquee with face painting, arts and craft activities, bouncy castles, and an area for young people with a café, games consoles and sumo wrestling suits.

The event has been organised with financial support from Haverhill Town Council.

Equipment cleared from house

Frank Williams, who still lives at Willow Close, told the court he had constantly had his sleep disturbed by people coming and going from the bungalow where Brooks lived, with shouting, swearing and general mayhem.

Karly Harvey, for Suffolk Police, said the bungalow was searched on May 22 and a vast amount of drugs paraphernalia including syringes, water ampoules, tourniquets and burnt spoons were found there – equipment consistent with heroin being injected.

Brooks denied Class A drugs had been used or supplied on the premises and said the items found were not his, but belonged to his ex-girlfriend, who had moved out.

Brooks said he had suffered abuse as a teenager and had since suffered depression. He had been suicidal and had friends who visited to make sure he was all right.

Police chief issues stern warning to drug dealers

AFTER two major successes in his battle against drugs, Haverhill's police chief has issued a stark warning – "deal drugs and we will take your home".

Inspector Andrew Mason, sector commander for Haverhill, said he was very pleased with the outcomes last week after heroin dealer Ricky Preston was sent to prison for four years at Ipswich Crown Court and a crack house closure order was made permanent, removing Jamie Brooks from his home at Willow Close, Haverhill.

The hearing at Bury St Edmunds last week marked the third crack house closure order to be made in Haverhill this year, but Insp Mason said this was not an indication of a serious drug problem in the town, more of success in tackling the problem.

He said: "Haverhill does not have a serious drug problem, but a few people are spoiling it for everyone else."

"We want to get a robust message out that if you are using or dealing Class A drugs in Haverhill, we will take your house away. It is a zero tolerance policy."

St Edmundsbury

Borough Council has been an equal partner in each of these crack house cases and the Anti-social Behaviour Act means we can act quickly.

"I am happy to use this legislation as often as necessary to protect our communities and people within our communities have been supporting us in taking decisive action."

"We want to make life as uncomfortable as possible for people dealing drugs because they have made it uncomfortable for local people."

"If they don't deal drugs, we won't throw them out of their homes."

MP supports campaign

HAVERHILL MP Richard Spring is supporting Mencap and 11-times Paralympic gold medallist Dame Tanni Grey-Thompson to help celebrate Learning Disability Week and call for more Changing Places toilets in the UK.

Standard disabled toilets do not meet the needs of all people with a disability. A new report from the University of Dundee says there are more than 230,000 people who need to use a Changing Places toilet in the UK and yet only 85 are available.

Changing Places toilets have enough space for the person with a disability and their carers and the right equipment which includes an adult-sized height-adjustable changing bench and a hoist.

Leroy Binns, spokesman for Mencap, said: "Without Changing Places toilets, people with profound and multiple learning disabilities can't take part in the community like everyone else, which is not fair. We are delighted to have Richard's support during Learning Disability Week."

Readers rally to help girl who lost 'lifeline'

Kind-hearted: Ercon Bober gives Savannah a new mobile phone and handbag.

A MUM has thanked kind-hearted Weekly News readers who came forward with offers of help after her daughter lost her mobile phone, Savannah Hanlon, 11, who is autistic, had gone on her first-ever outing with friends without the support of her mum, Wendy, to visit the fair in Haverhill. When she returned to her home in Queensway, Haverhill, Savannah's phone was missing from her pocket.

Savannah's phone is a necessity if she is to enjoy any independence because of her disability and two weeks ago, Wendy appealed in the Weekly News for its return.

Although her old phone was dropped through a letterbox of an office in the town, the SIM card had been ripped out and the phone was no longer working.

However, Savannah was soon smiling again after kind-hearted shopkeeper, Ercon Bober, who has run his dry cleaning and handbag business in Haverhill High Street for the past four months, got in touch to say he wanted to replace her phone.

When she arrived at his shop, Mr Bober not only paid for a brand-new phone for Savannah, he also gave her a handbag to keep it safe in the future.

He said: "When I read about it I felt very sorry for her and I wanted to buy her a new one. She is a lovely girl and I was happy to help her."

Gary Chilcott, another reader, also contacted the Weekly News offering to replace the phone.

Single mum Wendy said she was very grateful for everyone's kindness and also wanted to thank the Weekly News.

She said: "If it wasn't for you, then I would never have found out that there are some unbelievably kind people about."

"I am completely overwhelmed by Mr Bober's generosity, he is an extremely nice man, I cannot thank him enough for what he has done. Even my daughter's face lit up and she was so happy when she saw her new phone."

"As she has difficulty in showing emotion, it is like seeing your child open their Christmas presents for the first time every time I see her like this."

"He has not just given her an accessory to show off to her friends, he has given her a necessity. He has given her freedom and the chance to go out when she is able to – the chance to experience a slice of what a lot of children her age do every day."

Students brighten up store site hoardings

PUPILS from five schools have made their mark on a new supermarket development by designing artwork for the hoardings around it.

Pupils from Castle Hill Middle School and Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill got to work on their designs for hoardings around the new Tesco store being built at the Old Station Yard site which is due to open this autumn. They took part in a competition organised by Jo Ager with Becky Baldwin, a teacher at Castle Hill.

Tesco agreed to the idea and art teachers from the three Haverhill middle schools and two upper schools organised an extended schools project.

The theme of the project was "Haverhill and its identity" with six pieces of art chosen from each school, totalling 30 pieces. Local design company Styliste helped with the preparation and were paid by Tesco to produce the work on vinyl.

This week, the winning schools were given a £10 W H Smith voucher for each piece of art and £60 W H Smith vouchers to both Faye Battye, from Samuel Ward, and Jastine Rivera, from Castle Hill, for the two pieces that most reflected the theme. The £400 for these vouchers was donated by Tesco and Haverhill Town Council.

The two pieces chosen for the greater value vouchers were decided by Jean Buckton, a resident who first suggested the idea, and Anne Gower, chairman of the Haverhill Partnership.

Alice loses locks for good cause

A STYLISH bob has replaced the 15-inch-long locks of schoolgirl Alice Weir, who faced the scissors for a sponsored haircut.

Alice, 8, decided to sacrifice her hair in support of the Little Princess Trust charity, which uses donated hair to create wigs for children who lose their own hair through chemotherapy treatment for cancer.

Her aunt, Debbie Lee, gave Alice her new look and she has already raised £170 in sponsorship for the charity.

The Place Farm Primary School pupil lives in Seymour Drive, Haverhill, and got the idea of donating her hair when her mother Zoe's god-daughter visited from America, where both she and her mother deliberately grow their hair to donate it to the charity.

Alice is a keen gymnast and will not miss her long ponytail getting in the way or having tangles brushed out of her long hair in the morning before school. Anyone else who would like to contribute can visit her Justgiving page Alice.Weir.

Before and after: Alice Weir now sports a stylish bob.

New health centre has 1,000 visits in month

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A NEWLY-opened walk-in health centre has attracted 1,000 visits in its first month, with more than a quarter of these on one weekend.

The Crown Health Centre off Withersfield Road, Haverhill, is open to registered and non-registered patients and offers appointments alongside a walk-in service to people in the town and the surrounding areas.

The centre is open 8am until 8pm, every day of the year, and offers patients the opportunity to see a GP at a time which is convenient to

Opening for 12 hours every day including weekends, has reduced the need for patients to travel to A&E facilities for illnesses and injuries they would normally see their GP for.

Nigel Dransfield, practice manager, said: "The response from local residents has been overwhelming and feedback incredibly positive. People can use the walk-in service without being registered with a GP here, the numbers speak for themselves – patients clearly appreciate the greater convenience and peace of mind a walk in service gives them."

Appointments can be booked for registered and non-registered patients by phoning (01440) 282000 or walk in and ask for an appointment.

The health centre was opened on June 3 by Richard Spring, MP for West Suffolk, and Carole Taylor-Brown, chief executive of NHS Suffolk.

It will operate for up to three years in a temporary building at the car park behind the Rose and Crown pub until a permanent centre is built, on a site yet to be agreed.

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a fundraising event at a local school. Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken? Send your answers to: Memories, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF by Tuesday morning, or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Picture: 567477.

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed a cheque presentation in Haverhill to the Wishing Well Appeal. It was taken in February 1989.

Stuart Mcfarlane had fond memories of the event. He said: "This week's picture is of the Haverhill Shotokan Karate Club, which still trains at Chalkstone Middle School, where the picture was taken in 1989. "We had just completed a sponsored training session of eight hours for Great Ormond Street Hospital, which raised £2,300.

"The young boy holding the cheque was one of our members' son and he was having treatment at the hospital. The lady accepting the cheque was from the Great Ormond Street Trust.

"I am in the picture furthest on the left and I still train and instruct with the club, which has been running since 1980.

"We had a great day and it was for a very worthy cause."

Anne Barker also recognised the photograph, but believes the sponsored session ran a little longer than eight hours. She said: "The Haverhill Eska Shotokan Karate Club was featured last week. The photo was taken in February 1989. It was a sponsored 12-hour non-stop karate session in aid of Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital's Wishing Well Appeal. "Daniel Batt, a son of one of the members, is presenting the cheque to Wishing Well's representative, Jane Midwood. "My then 8-year-old son, Stephen Barker, is pictured in the front row, second from the left. Third from the left on the same row is Alex Murphy. Also in the photo are the instructors, Stuart Mcfarlane, first left in the third row, and Barry Lewis is to the right of Jane Midwood."

Tiny tots toddle to help less-fortunate children

A GROUP of 11 tiny tots put their best feet forward to raise cash to help other children less fortunate than themselves.

The pre-school children took part in the Barnardo's Big Toddle 2009, the UK's biggest sponsored event for the under 5s, supported by Fairy Non Bio Gel. By doing a short sponsored walk around East Town Park, Coupalls Road, Haverhill, on Saturday, the toddlers raised £451 for Barnardo's vital "Early Years" work with disadvantaged and vulnerable under 5s in local projects throughout the UK. This includes services for children with disabilities, young carers, and mums and dads who need support to help their children.

Carrie Webb, who helped organise the children to toddle, said: "This event was a great way for children to help others that are not as fortunate as themselves, which is a valuable lesson to learn at any age. The babies and children that attended the toddle were mainly from 'Tiny Talk' baby signing, which my own daughter, Elena, attends.

"We were very lucky that Philippa Lawson, our signing teacher, did a sing and sign session with all of the children after the toddle, which everyone really enjoyed. After the medals and certificates were given out, we finished off our event by having a well-earned picnic in the sunshine.

"The money we have raised as a group will go a long way to helping in local Barnardo's projects and I would like to thank everyone that came along and took part or supported the event."

Raising cash: below, the group sets off on the Big Toddle. Right, Elena Webb was among the tiny tots taking part.

College to keep mark of quality

A COLLEGE has extended its quality benchmark to centres in Haverhill, Mildenhall, Stowmarket and Sudbury.

West Suffolk College has been re-accredited with the Matrix Standard and the quality mark has been extended its LEAP centres. The Matrix Standard is a quality benchmark for Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) services.

After a detailed accreditation review, the assessor declared that the Matrix Standard had been successfully achieved by the LEAP centres and maintained by the IAG service at West Suffolk College.

The report stated that IAG service, at the main Bury St Edmunds campus and the four LEAP centres run by West Suffolk College all have a drop-in service which focuses on courses provided by the college and also gives information on other providers.

The assessor identified the commitment of staff to providing an environment in which students were respected and valued as a key strength.

The assessor also praised the increase in the number of guidance staff to cope with increased demand in response to the economic downturn, both centrally and in the LEAP centres.

West Suffolk College has recently gained approval to deliver an NVQ in Advice and Guidance.

Ace result from charity tournament

A CHARITY golf tournament has raised a bumper total to be divided between a hospice and local groups.

This year's Haverhill Charity Golf Classic, organised in association with the Weekly News, raised around £8,000, which will be shared between St Nicholas Hospice and local Rotary good causes. The annual event is run by The Rotary Club and the golf club.

Chris Briggs, who is a member of both organisations, said that it was a grand day and he wanted to say a big thanks to all the sponsors, particularly Printwise, MJ Pipe and Suffolk Insurance.

Rotary president Malcolm Smith said he was impressed by the effort and generosity of so many people.

As usual, courtesy of Lloyds Pharmacy, free blood pressure and diabetic checks were also available on the day.

Driver butted by passenger

A MAN head-butted a taxi driver who asked for payment to clean up his taxi after one of his passengers was sick in the back of the vehicle after a night out.

Lewis North, 20, admitted a charge of assaulting Stuart Gay when he appeared before magistrates at Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday.

Magistrates sentenced him to a one-year community order and ordered him to do 80 hours of unpaid work. He must also pay £100 compensation to Mr Gay

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

and pay £60 costs.

Jane Lazenby, chairman of the bench, said: "This was an unpleasant assault involving head butting more than once. The victim was providing a service to the public and he was quite seriously injured. It was reckless."

Emma Lister, prosecuting, said the victim was a taxi driver who had picked up four men from North's home in North Avenue, Haverhill, dropping them off in Cambridge then collecting them in the early hours of the morning.

When he stopped to drop them off in Haverhill, one of the men was sick in the back of the taxi and Mr Gay got out to ask for payment for clearing up.

North head-butted the taxi driver several times before the group ran off. An off-duty police officer nearby witnessed the incident.

Paul Cammiss, for North, said his client accepted that he had "totally lost it", but he had been very drunk and had wrongly believed the taxi driver had grabbed his friend who was sick by the neck.

Ban for teen involved in OAP death crash

A TEENAGER was handed a two-year driving ban after a crash in which a pensioner died.

Margaret Lyons, 69, who lived at Chadwell

Heath, was visiting her son in Little Walden, Essex, on May 18 last year, when she was knocked down and killed on the B1052.

James O'Malley, 19, of Castle Camps, was found guilty of careless driving after a two-day hearing at Harlow Magistrates' Court. O'Malley was given the driving ban and also ordered to pay £700 in fines and costs.

He will also have to retake a driving test at the end of the ban period.

Work experience: Josh Branch, one of the young apprentices. CP

Young builders take on 'bungalows' project

YOUNG construction apprentices have been presented with a real challenge – to build two miniature bungalows to deadline within a site-based working environment at the college's Anglian Lane site.

Josh Branch, from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill, is one of a group of construction young apprentices (YA) at West Suffolk College who are completing their work experience with an innovative Build-a-Bungalow project.

The project is being sponsored by local firms, principally Buildbase in Thetford and Haymills in Stowmarket, which already support YA construction students.

The young apprentices, all Year 11 school pupils, are building two miniature bungalows to deadline within a site-based working environment at the college's Anglian Lane site.

They come to college on one day a week from local schools in Haverhill, Thetford, Stowmarket and Bury St Edmunds. School Links co-ordinator Carol King said: "This is the first event of its kind to be held in the Eastern region. The students are building scale models which incorporate the brickwork, carpentry and construction techniques used in

"We are grateful for the support from these organisations. We are training the construction experts of the future, ready for the eventual upturn in the economy."

Special service: Richard Palmer with his new mobile catering trike. CP

Trike parking up for thirsty visitors

VISITORS to a historic country park will have no need to go hungry or thirsty this summer now a new "delhi trike" has started selling its wares.

Local businessman Richard Palmer, who runs Number One Deli and Café in Clare, saw an opportunity to provide refreshments for people visiting Clare Country Park and came up with the idea of a mobile catering service using a specially-made trike.

Visitors will now be able to grab a quick drink and bite to eat while out and about enjoying the beautiful surroundings.

Richard said: "At present, 140,000 visitors come to the park throughout the year and many comment on their evaluation sheet that it would be improved with the provision of refreshments.

"So with the support and permission of the senior ranger and local authority, we negotiated to buy the licence to sell teas and

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

coffees."

After looking at a range of possible mobile coffee units, the preferred option of the trike had originally been dismissed due to the cost, until Richard heard about the Suffolk Rural Economy Scheme.

Richard received £5,000 from the scheme, which partly financed the purchase of the coffee trike, and it has now begun trading at weekends.

Richard said: "We fitted the criteria for the grant and applied knowing that unless we were successful, our project would never happen.

"This grant has allowed us to realise a business plan built on knowledge and understanding of the needs of our local community.

"The provision of drinks and snacks will make the park more popular with families and walkers throughout the year and will become a destination in itself.

Visitors, once refreshed, will be encouraged to stay longer and use other sites in Clare."

During the summer months, the trike will be in the park every day and Richard points out that other businesses in the town will benefit too.

Richard intends to make a regular donation from the trike takings to local charities, the first to benefit will be Clare in Bloom.

Fran Toomey, assistant director for Economic Development and Planning, Suffolk County Council, said: "Local businesses are vital to our economy and we are pleased to support imaginative ideas like this which encourages tourism and thereby helps stimulate the local economy.

"Since the start of the scheme in October 2007, we have provided grant funding to 21 projects (this includes 10 post offices, eight shops and three pubs developing a community retail offer). This not only helps businesses to survive during these times, but also to flourish, as well as meeting the needs of their local communities."

Pupils follow mystery trail

PUPILS from a primary school followed a mystery trail through their local park last Friday morning. Pupils from Couplands Primary School in Haverhill are being encouraged to take part in a variety of outdoor activities and the visit to the town's East Town Park was just one of the activities they have been enjoying. A mystery trail was set from them to follow with clues around the park.

They have also taken part in activities within the school grounds, as well as walks to other parts of the town and a visit to the zoo.

Sun shines on show

CROWDS flocked to Haverhill last weekend for the town's biggest event of the year.

Perfect weather brought plenty of people along to the Haverhill Show, which set up at the recreation ground on Saturday and Sunday for the annual event. It is organised in association with the Weekly News and is the main fundraiser for LAMPH, the Haverhill-based charity for children and adults with disabilities.

There were car boot sales both days and the Sunday show was launched by a Methodist Church service in the bandstand.

The dog show was as popular as ever and displays included vintage vehicles, Colette's Entertainments School and Dell's School of Dance, karate, as well as "glamorous granny", "knobbly knees" and fancy dress competitions.

Plenty of bouncing babies turned out for the baby show, sponsored by Samuels, and the overall winner was Edie Mae-Rice, who also won the 18 months to two years age group.

Other winners were: up to six months - 1. Rogan Latham, 2. Brooke Louise Hunson, 3.

There was also a successful dog show, sponsored by Cheffins, and supported by The Gallery, with Newfoundlands, Yorkshire Terriers, Golden Retrievers and St Bernards among the winning breeds.

Mick Driver, chairman of the show committee, said: "The main area events were very much enjoyed by the public and there were 30 entries for riding the crazy bike, but no-one managed to achieve the feat.

"A very special thank you to Chapman's, Gary Bailey from St Edmundsbury waste management, Haverhill's fire and police services, the ATC, Ian Johnson, Dudley Haylock, Nathan Watts and all the helpers on the day. Extra special thanks to Aaron, Benjamin and Darren."

Search is on for unsung heroes

THE search is on to find those outstanding people who merit special recognition in the Cambridge News Community Awards.

Nominations can be made for individuals and groups who do sterling work behind the scenes in the community.

Carers for children, charity workers, health workers, youngsters who have battled against adversity, groups who support the elderly or those with special needs – all will be among those honoured.

The awards were launched 13 years ago by our sister paper to recognise exceptional contributions and achievements in local life – and each year a host of worthy winners comes to light.

Thousands of volunteers across our region selflessly give their time and efforts in many ways to help others, either as part of a larger group or by an individual act of kindness.

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Supported by leading businesses and organisations, the awards have grown to become the premier community-focused event in the greater Cambridge region.

The awards are designed to celebrate and reward everything that is good about our community and recognise ordinary people who do extraordinary things.

The awards programme, which runs for more than three months, culminates in a presentation evening on Thursday, October 1, in the grand surroundings of the Great Hall in Cambridge's Homerton College.

As the ceremony, money will be distributed to deserving local projects as well as recognising the outstanding contributions made by individuals in the region.

There are five individual awards and five group categories. Nominations for these awards are invited from readers.

Paul Brackley, editor of the Cambridge News, said: "Our Community Awards are a celebration of people – those who selflessly support those around them and those who serve their community. It is wonderful to recognise these contributions and I would urge you to nominate those individuals and groups who you feel deserve a special thank you."

So if you know of anybody who deserves recognition for their unstinting community work, make sure they have a chance of winning a prize by nominating them.

THE 10 CATEGORIES

Unsung Hero: This award is designed to pay tribute to inspirational individuals who have gone that extra mile to help their community.

Most Courageous Child: In this category, we want to salute youngsters who have displayed courage and/or bravery in adversity.

Health Worker: There are hundreds of health workers in our region, both paid and voluntary, who make such a difference to so many people's lives through 365 days a year. It could be a nurse or doctor who has dedicated a great deal of their life to a health organisation.

Young Achiever: Young people often get a bad press ... but not in the Community Awards. We want to hear about youngsters, under the age of 21, who have made an excellent contribution to their communities in all sorts of ways.

Carer of the Year: Scores of people in the region carry out selfless work every day, taking on the responsibility of caring for others, whether it be a sick child, an elderly relative, people with disabilities or others who need help. This award aims to honour such caring people.

Age Support: This section is for groups that help elderly people to enjoy an enhanced lifestyle, greater security and to lead more rewarding and active lives.

Community Support: This category is open to any project which helps our local communities and improves the lives of those who live in them.

Children's Support: This category provides funding for schemes that help children, including playschemes, nurseries and uniformed organisations.

Special Needs: A section aimed at groups who help people with special needs to live life to the full.

Green Award: This is for groups or individuals who devote much of their time to keeping our region green. Whether it is a local Scout troop creating a haven for wildlife, the community organisation working together to reduce waste or the residents' association achieving a greener environment for their town or village.

Hospice requests special 20p coins

A HOSPICE is asking people to donate limited edition 20p coins to them – if they are lucky enough to find one.

The mis-stamped coins, which have recently featured in the national news because they carry no date on either side alongside the 2008 design, can make more than £1,000 through auction sites and St Nicholas Hospice Care at Bury St Edmunds would like to kind-hearted individuals to donate their coins to them as a gift.

Yasmin Jeffery, marketing and PR manager said "If someone has been lucky enough to have found one these coins and would like to support our work, this is a brilliant way for them to do so.

"The face value of the coin is only 20p, but we know we can sell the coins for a lot more as collector's items."

If you are able to donate a 20p coin to the hospice, contact Yasmin on (01284) 715584 or email yasmin.jeffery@stnh.org.uk

Transport rally rolls into town

Sturmer. At 4.30pm, trophies will be presented by Cllr Les Ager.

The arts centre will be open for drink and refreshments and will be screening archive footage in the auditorium throughout the day.

Gordon Mussett, Haverhill town clerk, said: "This will be a super event.

"Many of the events are held on fields in the country and it is unusual to have a hard-standing area in a town centre.

"We are also using Haverhill's unique geographical position to route the road run through villages in the three counties of Suffolk, Essex and Cambridgeshire."

Chris Butcher, secretary of the Historic Commercial Vehicle Society, said: "We are delighted to be partnering with Haverhill Town Council on this project. We have some of the most important examples of particular vehicles attending from all parts of the country."

"This will be our biggest rally ever and, if successful, we hope this may become an annual event in Haverhill."

Chief constable defends record

CHIEF Constable Julie Spence has defended her force's record after the number of rape convictions nationally was branded a "scandal".

Cambridgeshire's lead officer spoke out to urge victims of rape to come forward following revelations of a postcode lottery for sex-attack victims.

Women in some regions were 11 times more likely to see assailants convicted, say figures obtained by the Fawcett Society using the Freedom of Information Act.

The conviction rate was seven per cent across

England and Wales from 2006.

But in 2007, the figure fell in 16 out of 42 police forces and 12 had a conviction rate below five per cent, including Cambridgeshire, Essex and Suffolk, all with just 3.1 per cent.

Figures for the 2008 conviction rate are unavailable, but Chf Con Spence said there had been an improvement.

Campaigners say low conviction rates are due to failures and prejudices from the initial complaint to trial.

Katherine Rake, Fawcett Society director, called it a "national scandal".

She agreed with Chf Con Spence in wanting women to come forward, but added: "They will be looking at these figures with a critical eye and forces should try to better their standards in dealing with rape."

In her latest podcast, Chf Con Spence said: "Even in Cambridgeshire, there is always the risk the handling of some cases may be less than perfect."

"But victims of rape in Cambridgeshire who come to us should know that they needn't fear derision or disinterest."

Council in top 20 for tax collection

A SUFFOLK council has been rated as one of the top 20 across the country for collecting its council tax.

Figures just released show that, despite the difficult economic climate, St Edmundsbury Borough Council was placed within the top 20 performing teams in the country, coming joint 16th out of 354 councils in England.

Although the recession affected many people's ability to pay their bills, the revenues team kept on top of collection throughout the year, recognising the need to ensure that collection rates were maintained in order to continue to provide excellent services to residents.

Cllr Paul Farmer, cabinet member for resources, said: "I am delighted with this performance. Last year we just missed out on being in the top 30.

"Part of the success is due to the increased direct debit take up.

"About 2,000 extra people signed up last year, and now 30,590 people in the borough pay this way.

"Direct debit takes the stress out of paying and is easy for our customers to use, and as it is the most efficient method of collection for the council, it reduces costs too."

Anyone struggling to pay their council tax should contact the revenues team directly on (01284) 757275.

This financial year St Edmundsbury Borough Council froze its council tax at last year's rate.

Festival guarantees music from highbrow to hilarious

CAMBRIDGE Summer Music Festival throws opens its many doors from Friday, July 17, for three weeks of entertainment, ranging from the highbrow to the hilarious.

Encapsulating this mix of the sublime and sometimes ridiculous is the Ukelele Orchestra of Great Britain, which launches the festival in the Corn Exchange at 7.30pm.

Equipped with just a handful of cheap instruments, their own voices and the occasional whistle, this virtuoso band of strummers and pluckers have spent the last 25 years confounding expectations and wowing audiences.

■ More boundaries are pushed on Saturday, July 18, when the London Sinfonietta Ensemble performs at the Emmanuel United Reformed Church at 8pm.

Acclaimed for its championing of new music, London Sinfonietta has built a worldwide reputation for razor-sharp performances of adventurous programmes, including music by Britten, Debussy, Messiaen and Takemitsu.

■ Sunday, July 19, brings a chance to unwind. Cellist Rowena Calvert and harpist Eleanor Turner, as the Calvert-Turner Duo, enjoy mixing very different voices and in their concert at All Saints, Haslingfield, (3.30pm, complete with cream teas). They will be exploring diverse musical territory, from Bach and Mozart to Gershwin and Ravi Shankar.

■ Music of a different scale features on the Sunday evening, when Stephen Cleobury conducts the Festival Chorus and the Cambridge Philharmonic Orchestra in King's College Chapel at 8pm.

Together they will perform Mozart's most elaborate choral masterpiece, The C Minor Mass. Its ambitious scale earned it the nickname, "The Grand Mass", despite it remaining unfinished at his death. The orchestra and choir also join in this year's 200th birthday celebrations for Felix Mendelssohn with performances of the Hebrides Overture and the anthem Hear My Prayer.

■ Perhaps the greatest of Mendelssohn's early masterpieces, the sublime Octet, forms the centerpiece of the concert on Monday, July 20, at the Cambridge Union Society at 8pm.

This performance unites the youthful talents of the Doric String Quartet and the Madrid-based Cuarteto Quiroga.

■ If 2009 has sometimes felt like an embarrassment of riches, with no less than four major composers being celebrated, then it has at least

Taking up the baton: Stephen Cleobury conducts the Festival Chorus and the Cambridge Philharmonic in King's College Chapel. CP offered a chance to savour both well-loved and rarely-performed works by Handel and Purcell. On Tuesday, July 21, (Trinity College Chapel, 7.30pm), Britain's pioneering counter-tenor, James Bowman, does just that when he joins with leading baroque specialists, Canzona, in Music for a White.

■ Heir to the great school of Czech playing, the Wihan Quartet has developed an impressive international reputation since it was founded in 1985. The quartet still comprises its original four members and has a mutual understanding that borders on the telepathic.

Put this together with the Czech repertoire for which it is renowned and you have a very special concert on Wednesday, July 22, at 7.30pm, when the quartet performs Dvorák's American quartet in the chapel of Jesus College.

■ The end of the first week brings both spiritual and secular vocal music. The former, on Thursday, July 23, comes from The Choir of St John's College, Cambridge, which has just returned from a tour of the United States and which performs music spanning the past 500 years. Instrumental interludes are courtesy of cellist Sophie Gledhill, who will be playing movements from Bach's Cello Suites. The concert begins at 7.30pm in St John's College Chapel.

■ In a nod to the fact that 2009 is the International Year of Astronomy as well as Haydn's anniversary, Opera East perform their fresh and vibrant production of Haydn's comic opera, Il Mondo della Luna (The World in the Moon) – a tale of love, deception and the abuse of telescopes – at West Road Concert Hall on Friday, July 24, at 7.30pm. It will be performed in English.

■ Finally, while sunshine can't be guaranteed for the picnic at Childerley Hall on Saturday, July 25, at 7.30pm (grounds open at 5.30pm), the music will definitely be hot. The esteemed Flamenco jazz guitarist, Eduardo Niebla has absorbed Indian, Arabic and classical influences and plays with a fiery passion to warm even the coolest summer evening.

■ There's much more to Cambridge Summer Music Festival than the evening events. And this year's series of lunchtime concerts brings music for organ, saxophone and piano, as well as a bit of good, honest folk.

As in previous seasons, The Fitzwilliam Promenade concerts also feature each Sunday of the festival.

Children get their own mini festival aboard the Artibus each Saturday on Parker's Piece. With four fun-filled workshops every Saturday, there is plenty to inspire budding young musicians.

Match colours to your personality

HAVE you ever thought about what your favourite garden colours say about your personality?

Celebrity plantsman Chris Collins and TV fashion expert Mark Heyes have teamed up with the Horticultural Trades Association to find out how plant colours can affect your moods, and how to match colour schemes with your personality.

Some 80 per cent of people admit their moods are positively affected when surrounded by colourful plants, according to research from PlantforLife, an HTA initiative which aims to help people get the most out of their garden.

Yet more than a fifth wished they could be braver and have the confidence to experiment with colour.

"Planting hot colours creates an exciting and intense mood, while opting to plant cooler colours can radiate feelings of restfulness and calm," explains Blue Peter gardener Collins.

Most people think colour is important in the garden, yet 76 per cent of people don't think about the way in which colours can work together or about the colours they are planting, the research found.

PlantforLife has produced Colour Me, Colour My Garden – a guide that matches personalities with colours. It applies concepts and ideas used in fashion and colour-consulting to the garden so that people can create one using colours that reflect them.

by Hannah Stephenson

Find out which personality you are:

- Romantic: You love life and see the good in everything. Swaying towards pinks and pastels, creams and ivories. Your palette might include the shrub fuchsia "Tom Thumb", which flowers throughout the summer in a sunny border and looks good surrounded by pink roses or poet's jasmine (Jasmine officinalis).
- Sultry: Your favourite colour is black but you also like subtle, soft shades of charcoal and stony taupes. There will be statement colours such as red to add pizzazz to your planting schemes. Good choices for you include lilyturf (Ophiopogon planiscapus "Nigrescens"), known for its grass-like black leaves in the summer, lilac flowers and black fruits, providing stunning colour contrast with the annual Scotch marigold (calendula), with its dark orange, daisy-like flowers, which need full sun to be at its best. A Japanese maple (Acer palmatum) such as "Bloodgood" may also feature in the sultry personality's garden scheme, with its deep red leaves which turn a brilliant red in the autumn. Don't plant it in direct sunlight as the leaves burn easily.
- Vivacious: You are confident and bubbly. You like bold colours including azure, tangerine, coral and cobalt blue. Suitable plantings would be French marigold (Tagetes "Safari Tangerine") with zebra grass or plantain lily, and Grace Ward (Lithodora diffusa), an evergreen which produces masses of bright blue flowers in summer and is perfect cascading over walls, planted near Anemone hupehensis "September Charm", which produces soft pink flowers in late summer, and sea holly with its blue hues.

■ Mysterious: You lean towards deep reds and aubergines, metallics and splashes of vibrant purple. Good plantings for you might include the rich blue perennial Delphinium "Blue Nile" with the lantern tree (Crinodendron hookerianum), an evergreen shrub which has dark, glossy green leaves and red flowers hanging from its branches.

The blues of viola and larkspur would also suit your colour palette, along with the silver-grey foliage of mugwort (Artemisia Powys Castle) and the reddish purple hues of the smoke bush (Cotinus "Grace").

■ Sultry: Your favourite colour is black but you also like subtle, soft shades of charcoal and stony taupes. There will be statement colours such as red to add pizzazz to your planting schemes. Good choices for you include lilyturf (Ophiopogon planiscapus "Nigrescens"), known for its grass-like black leaves in the summer, lilac flowers and black fruits, providing stunning colour contrast with the annual Scotch marigold (calendula), with its dark orange, daisy-like flowers, which need full sun to be at its best. A Japanese maple (Acer palmatum) such as "Bloodgood" may also feature in the sultry personality's garden scheme, with its deep red leaves which turn a brilliant red in the autumn. Don't plant it in direct sunlight as the leaves burn easily.

Why sell the traditional way?

Get Estate Agents to value it and put it on the market.

Show people around the property
(mostly "nosy parkers" & sightseers).

If no offers received after 2 or 3 months, reduce price.
Show more people around.

Eventually accept an offer at between 5 & 10% off the advertised price.

Hope the sale doesn't fall through (over 30% of sales don't reach completion).

Once price agreed, wait a further 3 months for sale to complete.

Work out how many £1000s it has cost you in reducing the price, making mortgage payments, paying Estate Agents fees and legal fees since you started the process (on average, 7 months ago...)

Sell your property
the CXG way...

The simple alternative

- Pay no Estate Agent's fees
- Pay no Legal fees
- No further mortgage payments
- Have cash within days
(Instead of months)

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- Send off change of address cards.
- Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- Take down curtains.
- Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- Turn off electric appliances.
- Disconnect cooker.
- Turn off boiler/central heating.
- Turn off water.
- Read gas meter.
- Read electricity meter.
- Secure all windows.
- Lock all doors.
- Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

Stunning X1 line-up unveiled

BMW created a new vehicle segment a decade ago when it launched the X5.

That vehicle received critical acclaim at its launch and continues to this day as a market leader with 1.5 million sold worldwide. The popular X3 followed in 2004 and the X6 spawned a new niche in 2008. Now BMW is poised to introduce the next derivative of the X model line-up with the X1.

The new BMW X1 takes its key styling cues and practicality from the X5 but shrinks it into a more compact and affordable package. The vehicle's elegant lines and command driving position echo its larger stablemate, while the five-seat configuration and 1,350-litre boot space provide outstanding load-lugging capability.

Power comes from a choice of three diesel engines and, for the first time on a BMW X product, the option to have rear-wheel drive (sDrive) or four-wheel drive (xDrive).

The dominance of diesel engines in other BMW SUVs, led BMW UK to decide only to offer diesel in the UK. The BMW sDrive18d and the xDrive18d feature a four-cylinder powerplant with an all-aluminium crankcase and a single turbocharger with variable intake geometry. Third generation common-rail diesel technology ensures optimum combustion.

The 1,995cc engine produces 143hp while peak torque is 320Nm from 1,750rpm through to 2,500rpm. This equates to a zero to 62mph time of 9.6 seconds and a top speed of 124mph for the rear-wheel drive X1 sDrive18d SE. The X1 xDrive18d SE posts figures of 10.1 seconds and a 121mph top speed. Both models are exceptionally fuel efficient, capable of 54.3mpg and 49.6mpg on the combined cycle respectively. The engine is EU5 rated and records 136g/km and 150g/km CO2 emissions.

As the flagship model the Performer: X1 prices start at £22,660 for the sDrive 18dSE.

BMW xDrive23d SE is offered only as a four-wheel drive variant. Still using a 2.0-litre engine, albeit with twin-turbocharger technology, this International Engine of the Year category winner provides rapid performance that defies the model's Sports Activity Vehicle position. The 204hp engine accelerates the X1 to 62mph in just 7.3 seconds. The near flat torque curve with a peak output of 400Nm from 2,000rpm to 2,250rpm permits effortless overtaking. The xDrive23d SE is an EU5 rated vehicle that records 44.8mpg on the combined cycle and CO2 emissions of 167g/km.

Most BMW X1s come as standard with a six-speed manual gearbox. However, buyers of the xDrive23d have a six-speed Sport automatic gearbox with gear change paddles located a finger tip away from the steering wheel for sporty changes.

The BMW X1 goes on sale in the UK on October 24 with the sDrive18d and xDrive18d variants following in December. Prices start at £22,660 for the X1 sDrive 18dSE and peak at £29,055 for the X1 xDrive23 SE.

Inside: X1 resembles a shrunk X5.

Compact: The X1 will be on sale in the UK in October.

Spaceship launched

Is it a car? Is it a campervan? No! It's a Spaceship!

This new adventure superhero has touched down from another world, coming to the aid of travellers who want freedom to explore the wilds of this great continent without having to handle a clunky, chunky campervan.

For too long independent travellers have had to choose between the flexibility of a car – with the added expense of accommodation, and the facilities of a campervan, with its driving, handling and accessibility challenges. On Wednesday, the bright orange Spaceships began landing in the UK.

The award-winning Toyota people movers are custom fitted with everything an intrepid explorer could need or want, but can also drive anywhere a car can go. Features include comfortable sleeping for two people on a large double bed, portable cookers, fridge/freezer, a four-speaker entertainment system including a DVD and MP3 player with iPod cord, water supply, seat-belted seating for four and lots of storage space.

Spaceships are a New Zealand concept which launched in 2004 and have since won the New Zealand Tourism Award for Innovation.

In 2008 they landed into Australia, where they have been a huge success with "Most travellers want a rental vehicle that's easy to drive and there are very few options in the market for this," says Neil.

The Spaceships UK head office is in Kent, only one hour from central London. In addition to this, a number of "Space Stations" are also being established around Great Britain, which will provide travellers with advice from local tour operators and activities in the area, to swapping DVDs.

Spaceships encourages trailblazing crews to go boldly where they have never gone before, with their unique support and guidance package. This includes itinerary planning, Space Stations (local points of contact), guidebooks and great deals on adventure activities.

More information on UK Spaceships is available at www.spaceshipsrental.co.uk or NZ Spaceships at www.spaceshipsrental.co.nz.

"The response from the UK has been phenomenal. Our expectations of demand for the vehicles have been far surpassed already," Geddes said.

Staycation essential: Award-winning Toyota people mover is on sale in the UK.

both adventurous residents and tourists.

Spaceships founder, Neil Geddes, has been blown away by the support and interest they have received since announcing their arrival in the UK.

"The response from the UK has been phenomenal. Our expectations of demand for the vehicles have been far surpassed already," Geddes said.

BE A 'PROPERTY PROFESSIONAL'

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.5 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. ## Seniors see off holder to reach prestigious final

A SECOND Haverhill GC squad reached a Suffolk matchplay event semi-final when the seniors' Parks Trophy team took on and beat holders Diss at Coupals Road.

On the hottest day so far this summer, Haverhill had a tough match on their hands, giving away 19 shots. However Gerry Scott and his partner Eamon Bareham took the sting out of the opposition only conceding one hole overall. Second pair Dennis Harkness and Chris Briggs duplicated the lead result, despite attempting to concede the 17th with some not-so-good approach play. It was left to the last two pairs of Jim Walker and Richard Sharp, along with Gordon Price and Eric Kiddie, to establish a winning score, which they did admirably as Haverhill finished five holes up on the day.

Results: Bareham/Scott 1 down v Fisher/Growstew, Harkness/Briggs 1 down v Addison/Attwood, Walker/Sharp 5 up v Maskell/Taylor, Price/Kiddie 2 up v Griffiths/Bentley.

■ Leading scores in the Wednesday Ladies' Medal, won by Katie Heathfield, were: C Heathfield, M Kendall 69, C Gardner 72, M Sall 73, S Playle 75, E Kiddy, D Kerchiss, L Bugg 76, D Darby 84, J Bowers 88, J Adams 89. ■ Heathfield continued her run of form when she returned a nett

Biller's joy as she gets top choice

STEFANIE Biller has clinched a place in her favoured event at the World Open Water Swimming Championships after a nail-biting wait.

The Haverhill-based swimmer had already sealed her place in the German squad in the 10km, but after the national trials for the 25km were cancelled, she had to wait to discover if she would be picked for her preferred distance.

Coach Alan Bircher said Biller had feared politics could be involved in the decision, with her main rivals Angela Maurer and Britta Kamrau getting the nod.

But the West Suffolk swimmer found out this week it would be she and Maurer representing their country in Rome later this month.

Bircher said: "The 25km is the one we started the season looking for a medal at the worlds in, so it's great news she has been picked. There are a lot of very good girls, so you can't guarantee

'Heath pair on top form

GARY Ellis and Rob Ketteridge turned Horseheath's emphatic 96-run CCA Senior League, Division One win at home to Barrington on Saturday into a two-man show.

Batting first after winning the toss, captain Ellis hit 55 and Ketteridge 52 during just eight overs in a seventh-wicket partnership of 94 after Martin Giles had earlier struck 35 as Horseheath set a target of 229 for 9, Mark Smith taking 3 for 67.

Ellis (3 for 11) and Ketteridge (3 for 33) quickly had Barrington in trouble as they took out their openers for ducks before leaving them on 9 for 4 after just four overs.

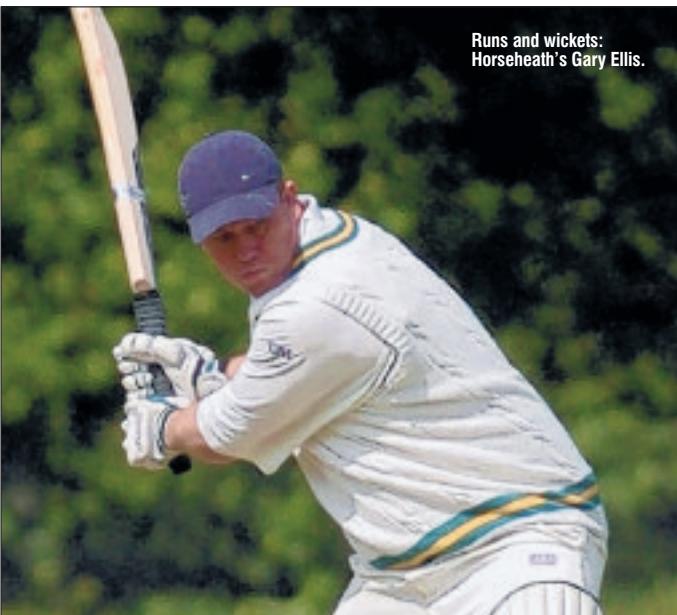

They were helped by some inspired fielding from Jamie Perry, who took four crucial catches, as the visitors were dismissed for 133.

■ In Division Two of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Haverhill lost by three wickets to Maldon.

Batting first, Haverhill scored 195 for 9, but could not defend the total as Maldon posted 198 for the loss of seven wickets.

■ Weston Colville had to settle for a draw in their Tucker Gardner Cambs & Hunts Premier League, Division Two clash with Fordham.

Batting first, Fordham scored 200 for 8 but could only look on in frustration as Colville held out for a
